300 Attend Site's Dedication

Morgan Monument Has New 'Home'

Stockdale Speaks, Snips Ribbon At Opening

About 300 attended the formal dedication of a new state historical park Sunday afternoon near West Point at the site where Confederate Gen. John H. Morgan and his cavalry surrendered in 1863.

At the right are Mrs. Frances Morton of Wellsville, county recorder, holding a sword which she said once belonged to Gen. Morgan, and Miss Etta Crubaugh, whose father owned the farm where the surrender took place. A view of the park and crowd is shown at the top.

Robert Stockdale, representing the State Highway Department and the State Historical Society, was the principal speaker. He cut the ribbon opening the new park, which is located along Route 518 about two miles west of West Point.

Mrs. Morton and Miss Crubaugh are standing beside the Morgan Monument, which was erected in 1910 at a nearby site. The famed "Rebel Raider" and a remnant of his men were captured by Federal troops in July 1863 after he crossed the Ohio River into Indiana and then rode across Ohio.

The Lisbon High School band played and a color guard attended from Salem. State Rep. Clarence Wetzel of Lisbon, scheduled to preside, did not attend because of illness.

Schools Begin Private Setup In Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Little Rock today lays the cornerstone of a bold program to evade school integration with registration of students in a private, segregated school for white seniors.

Volunteer workers labored almost around the clock for the past three days, readying a 32-classroom building in which an estimated 500 students will realize their first opportunity to attend school this year. They will not have to pay tuition at this time.

Actual classroom work will begin Tuesday, just 39 days after Gov. Orval E. Faubus invoked a new state law to shut down public high schools in the face of an immediate integration order from the U. S. Supreme Court.

The Little Rock Private School Corp. will finance the new school with funds from public subscription.

The building, formerly occupied by a University of Arkansas graduate facility, was leased only Thursday. Desks, blackboards and other furniture were moved in over the weekend.

W. C. Brashears, school superintendent for the corporation, said classes will open later for 10th and 11th graders.

An estimated 3,600 high school students, white and Negro, were left without schools after the Faubus closing order. An estimated 900 pupils, including 200 Negroes, since have transferred to schools outside the Little Rock district.

Italian Walkout Halts Buses And Streetcars

ROME (AP)—Employees of municipal bus and streetcar lines throughout Italy quit work today in a 24-hour strike which had the rare support of all labor unions.

Romans struggled to work — many of them late — in army trucks and private buses. Four passengers were injured in collisions of the makeshift buses. Another hit a pedestrian.

The strike, over a wage dispute, started at a minute after midnight and was to end at midnight tonight.

9 Days Of Mourning End

Final Preparations Begin For Election Of New Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church today began the final week of preparations for election of a new pope.

The nine days of funeral services for Pope Pius XII ended Sunday in St. Peter's Basilica with a two-hour solemn Requiem Mass attended by U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and other diplomats and representatives of 50 non-Communist nations.

The arrival Sunday night of Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski from Poland brought to 47 the number of princes of the church assembled in Rome for the secret conclave which will convene next Saturday to elect a new ruler of the church.

By the weekend all but two of the 54 living cardinals are expected to be at the Vatican. The absentees will be Josef Mindszenty, a fugitive from Hungary's Communist government who has taken asylum in the U. S. legation in Budapest, and Alojzije Stepinac, confined to his native Yugoslav village by President Tito's government.

A thousand cheering people massed at the Rome railway station to greet 60-year-old Cardinal Wyszynski, who was kept under house arrest by the Communists for three years. The crowd included both exiles from Poland's Communist regime and representatives in Italy of that regime.

The welcome amazed the prelate, who exclaimed, "My God, I did not know I was so popular. Why? Why?" It took almost 10 minutes for police to clear a path for him to a waiting Vatican automobile.

Robed in purple, the cardinals sat in two long rows on each side of the apse area of St. Peter's for the final funeral Mass for the late Pope. Behind them were Roman and foreign nobility and representatives of the foreign governments.

President Sean O'Kelly of Ireland was the highest ranking mourner, the only chief of state present. Foreign Ministers Heinrich von Brentano of West Germany, Maurice de Merville of France and Pierre Wigny of Belgium attended for their governments. The Earl of Perth represented Queen Elizabeth II of Britain.

Dulles was accompanied by his wife and President Eisenhower's other two representatives, Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, former U. S. ambassador to Italy, and chairman John A. McCone of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission.

Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York was one of the four cardinals assisting Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, the French-born dean of the College of Cardinals, in celebration of the Mass.

The general public was not admitted, and the chanting of the Vatican choir rang through the vast emptiness of the cathedral beyond the apse.

Opposite the Altar of the Cathedral Throne was a huge four-decked symbolic catafalque, surrounded by lighted candles and topped with a replica of the pontifical tiara, the three-tiered, beehive-shaped crown the Pope wore in triumphal processions.

28 Horses Are Killed, 27 Injured During Fire

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (AP) —Fire raced through a large stable at Marlboro Race Track Sunday, trapping and killing at least 28 horses in their stalls. Two others were so badly burned they had to be shot.

About 27 other horses were injured.

Wind-whipped flames destroyed two barns and damaged two others at the half-mile track south-east of Washington.

Damage was estimated at more than $100,000.

Eight years ago 22 horses died at Marlboro in a fire which destroyed two barns.

Rabbi Invited Back Despite Bomb Threat

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP) — Arlington's Unitarian church is inviting a Jewish rabbi to return next Sunday to deliver a sermon that was canceled by a bomb threat.

"We will not be intimidated by such business," said the Rev. Ross Allen Weston, the church pastor, in announcing that Rabbi Emmet A. Frank "is coming back next Sunday."

Approximately 570 worshippers, including 220 Sunday school children, were evacuated from the church Sunday when an anonymous telephone caller threatened to bomb the building.

"You better get the kids out of there. We're going to bomb the place," a deep-voiced man told Mrs. Joseph Bowen, secretary-director of the religious school office about 15 minutes before Rabbi Frank was due to speak.

Police, after advising the service be canceled, searched the church but found no bomb.

Rabbi Frank, of the Beth-el Temple in neighboring Alexandria, recently touched off a local controversy when he criticized Virginia's massive resistance program to school integration. At the time of the bomb scare he had delivered a sermon at the church on the topic of Judaism and was waiting to repeat it.

Mr. Weston called the bomb threat the work of a small hate group.

Parking Ban Planned For Section Of 2nd St.

Parking will be banned on E. 2nd St. between Market St. and Broadway Tuesday to allow street department crews to prepare the street for seal-coating.

Street Supt. W. M. Laughlin appealed to motorists to heed the warning so the crews can patch holes in the street and along the curbs.

The street is one of 13 the city has earmarked for seal coating. It will open bids next Monday to purchase materials.

Pounded Three Hours Cease-Fire Broken As Red Guns Again Batter At Quemoy

Washington Is Surprised By Red Move

Capital Caught Off Guard By Ending Of Two-Week Truce

WASHINGTON (AP)—Red China's order ending the two-week-old Quemoy cease-fire took official Washington by complete surprise today.

The announcement by Peiping radio turned upside down the situation which had caused Secretary of State Dulles to undertake a transpolar flight from Rome to Taipei this weekend to try to reach a better understanding with President Chiang Kai-shek on how to meet the Communist political offensive against Formosa.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said when told of the Peiping statement that the department would have no immediate comment.

Officials had not definitely figured out in two weeks what caused the Reds to call off their Quemoy shelling Oct. 5. The puzzlement over cancellation of the cease-fire seemed likely to be even greater.

Dulles decided last Tuesday to accept an invitation from President Chiang to fly to the capital of Nationalist China because, associates said, he thought it vital to reach a better understanding with Chiang so that the Reds could not succeed in driving a wedge between Formosa and the United States.

The desire to break the Chinese Nationalists away from the United States was believed by Dulles to be the major objective of the Reds in carrying out their cease-fire operation.

In first announcing the cease-fire, the Reds proposed direct talks with the Formosa government.

The United States followed up by meeting Red China's demands for a halt in conveying but the Chinese Nationalists rejected the Red bid for negotiations on the grounds the cease-fire itself was some kind of trick and that no agreement with the Communists could be trusted anyway.

Nevertheless, U. S. officials said both publicly and privately that the suspension of American warship escorts for Nationalist supply vessels would be continued so long as the Communists withheld their attacks.

One of the most puzzling elements in the Red reversal today was the charge that U. S. warships had resumed conveying. This was contrary to the stated Washington position and raised the suspicion here that the Communists might have concocted this claim as an excuse to start firing again.

In any case, the key to the new Communist tactic may lie in the references to Dulles' visit to Formosa and the charge that the Chinese Nationalists have rebuffed Red overtures for negotiations.

What this suggests is that the Communists may be trying to undermine the success of the Dulles-

Florida Farming Town Battered By Tornado

PAHOKEE, Fla. (AP)—A sneak tornado belted this tranquil farming town Sunday with fury that left one dead, 16 injured and $400,000 damage in splintered homes, equipment and communications.

The twister lashed first at the airport, a mile west of Pahokee. Nine crop-dusting planes were wrecked. One of them sailed 500 feet across a road.

"It rolled up my four planes like a ball," said Jack Phillips.

Two rows of migrant farm workers' homes collapsed. One house was blown more than 400 feet. Its wreckage yielded the body of John Gray, 70-year-old Negro laborer.

Legal Points Raised

Argument Delays Beginning Of New Burglary Hearing

The scheduled start of the seventh burglary trial stemming from indictments against city police officers was delayed this morning at Lisbon while arguments were heard on points of law.

Selection of a jury was to start today in the trial of Ira Cunningham and Robert Carroll, former officers, and Jerome (Jerry) Raimond, ex-special officer, charged with the breaking and entering of the Burbick Hardware Store in 1952.

However, Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville, counsel for Raimond, argued a motion filed Friday that the indictment against Raimond be dismissed since he already has been tried and acquitted of receiving goods stolen from the Washington St. store.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard also heard arguments from Atty. Sam Fekett of Youngstown, counsel for Cunningham and Carroll, on his ruling Thursday to reject a defense motion to dismiss all the indictments since they had not been tried within the allotted court terms.

At 10 a. m., Judge Buzzard ordered a recess while he consulted some law books. One legal point which the court apparently sought to clarify is whether he is the final authority on the ruling concerning the motion to quash the indictments or whether the Court of Appeals could rule further on it.

The defense attorneys also filed Friday notices of intent to appeal the judge's ruling to the 7th District Appellate Court.

If a jury is selected today, it will be taken to view the Washington St. store, according to Prosecutor G. William Brokaw. He said he expects to call about six witnesses.

The indictment is one of nine handed down in 1956 involving five regular policemen and two former special officers.

Robert McBane, former officer who pleaded guilty to eight of the nine indictments, has been a key prosecution witness in the trials which began in May 1956 with the acquittal of Robert Hanna, another regular policeman.

Cunningham and Raimond were acquitted of the entering of the Bertram Lumber Co. The trial of Cunningham, Carroll, Raimond and

Campaigning Grows Hotter As Vote Nears

Ike Expected To Hit Harder In Review Of GOP's Program

By The Associated Press
 President Eisenhower carried his election efforts toward California today while other campaigners argued about his foreign policy and its place in the political debate.

A stepped-up weekend tempo also found Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler virtually inviting those Democrats who disagree sharply with the party's civil rights program to get out of the Democratic party. He said they could "take political asylum" in the Republican party or a third party.

With the congressional election campaign moving into its final two weeks, Eisenhower speaks tonight in Los Angeles and Tuesday in San Francisco in what the White House said would be a hard-hitting explanation of Republican accomplishments.

Former President Harry S. Truman and Vice President Nixon resume their campaign activities Tuesday in the East, after a week-end of rest for each.

Adlai Stevenson, twice the Democratic presidential nominee, called U. S. policy toward the Nationalist Chinese islands of Quemoy and Matsu "this miserable mess."

Speaking in Milwaukee Saturday night, he said, "We have had almost four years of grace over the last crisis of Quemoy to extricate ourselves. Instead, we have allowed Chiang Kai-shek to bring us

Nationalists Return Fire In New Clash

Communists Blame U.S. Warships For Their Latest Move

TAIPEI (AP) — The Chinese Reds broke their cease-fire in Formosa Strait today, pounding Quemoy for nearly three hours and then turning their guns on Tatan islet off Amoy.

On his way here for important talks, Secretary of State Dulles said it was a tragedy the Communists had again displayed their "warlike disposition." He made the statement during a refueling stop for his jet tanker at Fairbanks, Alaska.

The Nationalists on Quemoy, amply supplied during the nearly 15-day cease-fire, returned the Red fire. The Communist artillery caught four Nationalist supply ships in the Quemoy beach area—three LSTs and one Navy transport. There was no word on whether any were hit.

The Red guns blazed at Quemoy for 2 hours and 45 minutes, then halted. Eighty minutes later, they opened up on Tatan, a 96-acre islet 2 1/2 miles south of Amoy.

The Chinese Communists said they were suspending their cease-fire—scheduled to end next Sunday—because U. S. warships had conveyed Nationalist supply vessels to Quemoy. U. S. officials denied it.

A Nationalist spokesman said no American ships were in the beach area. The Communists in ending the cease-fire had charged U. S. warships had broken the truce by escorting Nationalist supplies to Quemoy Sunday night.

The Americans flatly denied this saying they had only "conducted a small-boat operation . . . lifting Chinese Nationalist supply craft through international waters," at least 15 miles off Quemoy.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry said the Communists had resumed shelling at 4 p. m., 50 minutes after Peiping Radio had broadcast orders canceling the cease-fire. The Communists announced a week ago that their self-imposed hold-fire had been extended to midnight next Sunday.

The Nationalists said they had waited one hour after the Com-

'Keep Going,' Ike Instructs His Secretary

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower today instructed Secretary of State Dulles to continue on his way to Formosa despite ending of the Chinese Communist cease-fire.

Eisenhower held a pre-dawn telephone conference with Dulles, who called from Fairbanks, Alaska. Dulles had arrived there en route to Taipei for consultation with President Chiang Kai-shek.

Eisenhower, making a political campaign tour, was awakened at 5:30 a. m. MST to take Dulles' call.

They consulted for about 10 minutes and then decided that Dulles should continue his trip.

The conference took place shortly after the Chinese Communists announced they were ending their 15-day cease-fire. The Reds previously had announced the cease-fire would continue at least through this week.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, called a special news conference to announce the Eisenhower-Dulles conference.

"Both the President and Chiang Kai-shek had been hopeful that the suspension of hostilities gave a good opportunity to advance the cause of peace in that area (Formosa)," Hagerty said.

Cease-Fire

munists began shooting, then opened fire.

A Nationalist spokesman said the Red bombardment was not so heavy as on Aug. 23, when the off-shore war began with an intense two-hour bombardment. During that initial attack 41,000 Communist rounds were fired, killing 11 civilians and wounding 18 on Quemoy and causing more than 200 military casualties.

The abrupt development raised grave new problems for U.S. Secretary of State Dulles, flying by jet tanker over the North Polar route to Formosa. His mission was to clear up misunderstandings with Nationalist President Chiang Kai-shek and lay the base for a more substantial cease-fire in Formosa Strait.

Red Chinese Defense Minister Peng Teh-huai gave his reason for resuming the bombardment a charge that U.S. warships had encroached on Chinese territorial waters Sunday night in escorting Nationalist ships to Quemoy.

"Shelling must therefore be resulted as a measure of punishment," the Communist order said.

The U.S. Taiwan (Formosa) Defense Command declared the charge was completely untrue.

Only Sunday, U.S. Navy commanders had disclosed that additional warships rushed to bolster the U.S. 7th Fleet here after the Communists started massive artillery attacks on the off-shore islands had been withdrawn.

In escorting Nationalist supply ships to Quemoy, U.S. warships have stayed three miles or more off Quemoy, the limit of territorial waters recognized by the United States. However, Red China claims a 12-mile limit.

In announcing the first cease-fire, effective at midnight on Sunday, Oct. 5, the Red Chinese said a condition was that the United States halt its escorts.

The United States refused to accede specifically to the Communist demand. But after several days of cease-fire, it withdrew the escorts and said they were no longer necessary.

The Nationalists viewed the on-again artillery war as a fulfillment of their predictions that the Reds would renew action when it suited them. They have claimed the Communists were only following accepted Red tactics of "fight and talk, talk and fight."

This was in conflict with Dulles' hopes. He has been working on the line that the Communists might institute a permanent cease-fire if the Nationalists would thin their large garrison on Quemoy down to a point where it could not be considered an invasion threat to the mainland.

The Communists, in announcing their original cease-fire and in extending it a week later, bid for direct peace negotiations with Chiang's government. The Nationalists brusquely rejected the overture.

In the order today Peiping said it appeared "the time is yet to come when the Taiwan (Nationalist) authorities will wake up... and accept a peaceful settlement."

State Jobless Pay Scheduled For Veterans

The East Liverpool office of the Ohio State Employment Service will begin next Monday to accept applications for unemployment compensation for ex-servicemen discharged within the last 15 months and who are unemployed, even though they have had no civilian employment, Harry L. Dinsmore, manager, announced today.

The action is being taken under the provisions of the federal unemployment compensation act of 1958, which permits the bureau to use military pay and allowances as wage credits in computing unemployment benefits for ex-servicemen, Dinsmore explained.

Ohio's participation was made possible by the signing of an agreement between the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation and the Department of Labor, he said.

Ex-servicemen who file their claim in Ohio after discharge from military service will have their claims processed under provisions of the Ohio law, which provides weekly benefits ranging from $10 to $33 plus a maximum of $6 for dependent children.

The ex-servicemen wishing to file for benefits should bring their separation form, DD-214, Social Security card and any record of civilian employment they may have.

He warned they must not only meet the federal requirements as to military service but all of the qualifications of the Ohio law. The state requires those seeking benefits must be able, ready and available for work and actively seek work each week while claiming unemployment.

No Survivors, Peiping Says Of Jet Crash

LONDON (AP) — The crash of a TU104 jet airliner, showpiece of Soviet aviation, took the lives of the 65 passengers and all crew members, Red China announced Sunday night.

Peiping radio said there were no survivors of the crash Friday night at Kanash, 400 miles east of Moscow, and that among the dead were 16 Chinese government officials.

It was the first crash to be announced for the jet airliner, the pride of the Soviet commercial air fleet.

Doctors Tell Mothers Warts Should Be Removed

New Compound Removes Common Warts Without Cutting or Burning

New York, N.Y. (Special) — Doctors know that picking and scratching at warts may cause bleeding and infection. But today, medical science has developed a new compound, that removes common warts quickly and safely, without painful surgery or electrolysis.

Developed by a famous medical laboratory, this remarkable new formula penetrates warts... destroys their cells... actually causes warts to dissolve away.

Tested by a leading New York skin clinic under careful medical supervision, this remarkable for-experts on their way home from Red China. They included one Briton, four East Germans and the son of the Cambodian ambassador to Peiping.

The number of crew members was not given, but the TU104 usually carries up to 10.

The Peiping broadcast gave the first details of the disaster. Moscow radio, in one of its rare announcements of air mishaps, said Saturday night that the plane went down on a regular Peiping-to-Moscow flight but did not disclose how many had been killed.

Aeroflot, the Soviet state airline, said in Moscow no further details would be disclosed until an investigation has cleared up the case.

Walter J. Hunston For State Senate

It has been many years since the people of the 20-22nd Ohio Senatorial District have had a candidate of the capacity and potential of Walter J. Hunston, a Republican of Salem.

Mr. Hunston, at 39 an able lawyer and civic leader whose enthusiasm to serve his fellow man has carried his name far and wide, is opposing Arthur Blake, Martins Ferry Democrat, for the state Senate seat.

Mr. Hunston, in our opinion, stands head and shoulders above his incumbent opponent in any measure of the qualifications of the two candidates.

Sen. Blake has not been an effective voice in the Ohio Senate and has not given the 20-22nd district the kind of strong, aggressive representation it deserves.

Mr. Hunston, on the other hand, has exhibited all of the qualities we like to see in a candidate. Making his first bid for an Assembly seat, he has shown a grasp of legislative problems that would do credit to one of long experience in such matters.

In addition to his familiarity with state government, he is well informed on the national scene.

He majored in government and political science during pre-law studies in college and served six years as solicitor for his home town.

His record of community service is outstanding.

He realizes the need for further economic development of the Upper Ohio Valley and stands pledged to work toward that goal.

It is seldom that a candidate so qualified for and devoted to public life appears on the scene, but such is the opportunity awaiting the voters of Columbiana, Jefferson, Harrison and Belmont counties on Nov. 4.

The 20-22nd senatorial district needs Mr. Hunston. It would do well to elect him.

Fund Moves Into Critical Period

The Community Fund has passed the half-way mark in its campaign for $33,000 with which to help operate six deserving organizations.

This has been the easy part of the drive. The critical days lie ahead.

There are many, many people who, realizing the worth of the benefiting groups, are more than willing to contribute—and do so. Their money is needed to be sure if the fund is to go over the top. But they are the contributors who can be counted upon to provide a solid base for the fund.

The burden now rests upon the shoulders of those who have not answered the appeal or who have not contributed to the best of their financial ability. These are the individuals who must come through if the campaign is to be a success. If you are one of them, take stock of yourself, then act accordingly.

You will be helping six most worthwhile organizations through the dollars you give—the Girl Scouts, the Boy Scouts, the YMCA, the Salvation Army, the Recreation Council and the United Service Organizations.

There are few who do not benefit in some way from the services and programs they offer.

The Community Fund has had rough going here over the years so far as reaching its goal is concerned.

The situation may be reaching the point where a united appeal may have to be abandoned if the response again falls short.

It would be most regrettable should this come to pass. A united campaign is the most logical method of meeting the needs. A return to the former individual campaigns would be a step backward.

The idea of giving once for all makes sense and certainly is less demanding on the many volunteer workers who give time and effort to the solicitations.

The agencies, the many workers and the community itself deserve the support of everyone.

If you haven't contributed to the Community Fund, do so now. If you already have contributed but are in a position to give more, do so.

This is a critical year for the fund. It must go over the top!

Better Read It—Just Once

There is one point on which no one ever disagrees in an argument about unionism in this country.

Whenever a "yellow dog" contract is mentioned, everybody agrees it was a vile, intolerable practice that should have been outlawed long before it was.

A "yellow dog" contract was an agreement between an employer and an employee that bound the employee to refrain from joining a union, on pain of losing his job if he joined.

It seems to have been overlooked that an agreement between an employer and his employees to make every future employee join a union, on pain of not being able to get a job if he doesn't join, is nothing but a "yellow dog" contract with a new twist.

The old-time "yellow dog" agreements were for the express purpose of driving union organizers out of existence.

The modernized "yellow dog" agreement is for the express purpose of driving nonunion workers out of existence.

It would be a fine idea for every Ohioan expecting to vote on the proposal to ban the new version of a "yellow dog" contract to read it just once, instead of taking somebody else's word for what it says.

This is what it actually says:

"No employer or labor organization shall deny or abridge the right to work by requiring membership or nonmembership in, or payment or nonpayment of money to, a labor organization as a condition of employment or continued employment in this state."

That is all it could ever mean — what it actually says.

All the far-fetched meanings being read into it by its opponents are for propaganda only.

If the proposal is adopted, no Ohio employer and no Ohio labor negotiator can make any kind of deal to sign up any worker in this state to join or not to join a union. They will have to deal directly with the workers. No one can sign away his personal right.

What would be the effect, one wonders, if Ohioans were voting on a proposal worded like this:

"No one in this state shall have any right to sign up anyone in any private organization without his consent, free from all coercion."

In that case, there would have been no issue.

Every Ohioan, whether or not he belonged to a labor union, could agree wholeheartedly that a "yellow dog" contract is intolerable and should be outlawed forever.

The defeated British yacht "Sceptre" is on her way across the ocean on a freighter. Can she keep up that way?

Annual published rating of safety and non-safety features on new autos, as urged by a N. Y. Board of Safety Commissioners, has its comic aspects. You can rate safety features on every car on earth and there will always be drivers who can find a way to be highway menaces. Rating of drivers is the real need. A N. Y. commission says, "We are not convinced that the auto industry is seriously committing itself to designing cars that will cut accidents and minimize consequences." It could be off base here, but there is something in its conclusion: "Although we welcomed announcement that new models would have more safety features it is hard to understand why so many are listed as OPTIONAL."

The campaign button is going big in New York's gubernatorial battle. "Roll With Rock" and "Call Me Nelson" are among those on the Rockefeller side, with the Harriman buttons more orthodox.

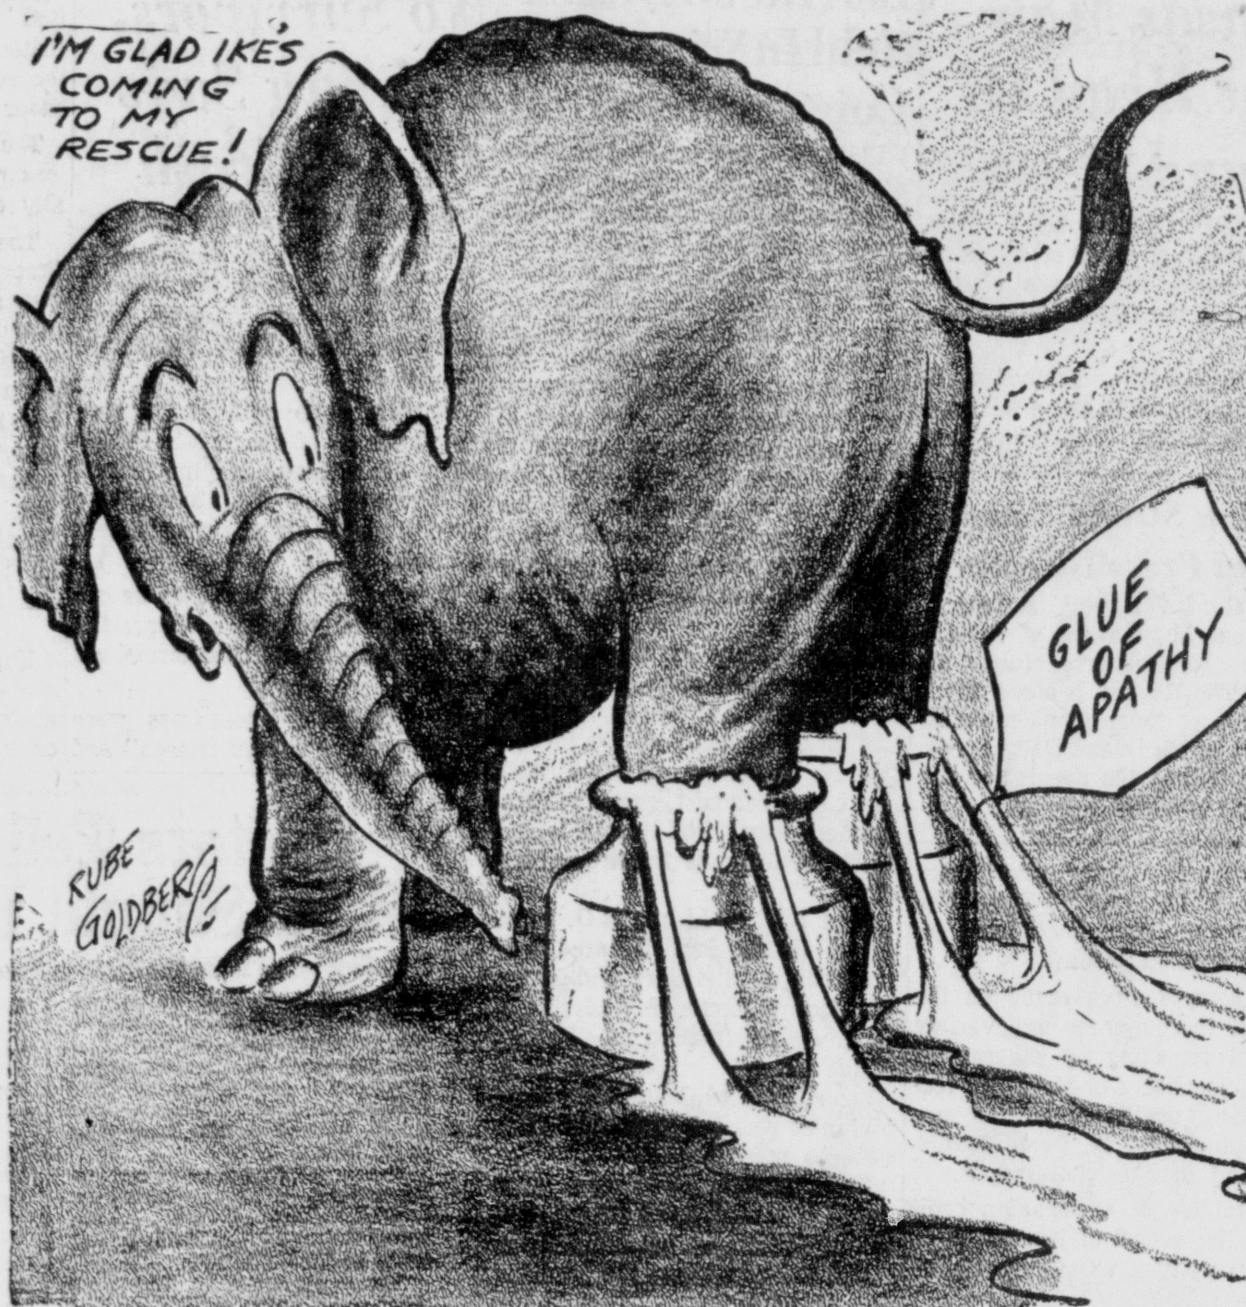

The governor needs something with more wallop. Since both are millionaires, a Harriman button, "He's Rich Enough for Me" would help, or "Vote for Ave. He's Comparatively a Noddy Case." We offer the following to both candidates:

Rockefeller Buttons: "Nelson: Who Else!" "Sack With Rock!" "Vote for Rox and Lox." "Cook With Gas and a Man Who Sells It." "Give A Rockefeller a Chance To succeed." "When Millionaires Meet Choose One Who Gives Heat" and "Fasten Your Belts On With Nelson."

Harriman Buttons: "Honest Ave is Worth a Rave." "Behave and Take Ave." "Harriman, That's All." "Vote for Harriman, the World's Richest Underdog." "I Crave Ave." "Don't Turn Harriman Into the Streets." "A Friend of Mints is a Friend of the Blintz."

Voter's Mind-Maker-Upper

'No One Knows How You Vote'

By Reed Smith

COLUMBUS

Just how secret is Ohio's election ballot?

Isn't there some way of telling how you vote despite all the safeguards to preserve secrecy?

"No one knows how you vote," Secretary of State Ted W. Brown answers emphatically.

"Regardless of what some may think or what you are told, your vote is secret," declares Ohio's elections chief.

Almost every election brings rumors that ballot secrecy is a myth if you are in the know, Brown explains. He said those false claims appear widespread this year.

Gov. C. William O'Neill took note of the reports in a campaign speech. He said they were prevalent in industrial areas of north-eastern Ohio and along the Ohio River. Brown said he also had received similar reports from those sections and the Dayton area.

O'Neill laid the reports to labor leaders working for defeat of a state constitutional amendment in the election. The proposal to regulate labor contracts would outlaw the union shop in Ohio. Union shop contracts require workers to join a union to hold their jobs.

"The labor bosses in Ohio have become frantic in their desperation over the rising tide of sentiment in favor of the right-to-work amendment," O'Neill said.

"In order to whip their members into line and compel them to vote against RTW, they are now spreading the falsehood that they, the bosses, will be able to find out how union members vote Nov. 4, and, therefore, the bosses imply they will be able to punish union members who do not vote as the bosses order."

"They can compel their members to register, under threat of disciplinary punishment if they do not."

"But remember this: They cannot go into the voting booth with their members. They cannot control their secret ballot. They cannot afterwards find out how any individual voted, unless he chooses to disclose this himself."

The proposal on the ballot reads: "No employer or labor organization shall deny or abridge the right to work by requiring membership or non-membership in, or payment or non-payment of money to, a labor organization as a condition of employment or continued employment in this state."

Brown said rumors this year were to the effect that numbers on ballots would make it possible to tell how voters marked them. "That is not true," he said.

"While the stubs on paper ballots are numbered and such numbers are recorded in the poll book," Brown explained, "the ballot itself is not numbered. The stub bearing such a number is torn off and deposited in a separate box from the one in which the unnumbered ballot is deposited, thus eliminating any possible means of determining how a voter votes."

"In addition," he said, "voters have the privilege of witnessing the depositing of the stubs and the ballots to make certain the precinct official performs his or her proper duty."

"Votes on voting machines are mechanically tallied and lose their identity in the totals."

Brown said voters should fold their ballots after marking them and insist that they are placed in ballot boxes immediately. Any election official who looks at marked ballots before the polls close should be reported, Brown said. He will be in trouble immediately, Brown promised.

"There is no way to trace a ballot in the box," Brown assured.

He also warned against making marks on ballots "which would in any way identify you as a voter of that ballot." Such marks would void the ballot and it could be thrown out, he admonished.

Brown said the same secrecy surrounds absent voter ballots marked before the election and sealed for opening when the votes are counted.

The secretary of state already has cast an absent voter's ballot because he will be inspecting polling places throughout the state on election day.

Those who, because of necessity, will be more than 10 miles from their voting precinct on election day can cast an absent voter's ballot in person or by mail. So can disabled voters. They have until 4 p.m., Oct. 30, to obtain such ballots from county election boards. After marking them, ballots must be received at election boards by noon, Oct. 31. Armed service applications must be filled by noon, Nov. 1, and delivered to boards by election day noon.

'Parkinson's Law'

By John Mosedale

NEW YORK

The world agonizes in a battle for men's minds. But as theories, democracy and communism are "all, without exception, drivel."

The author of this judgment is Prof. C. Northcote Parkinson, a witty, learned and irreverent Englishman making his first visit to America. His latest book, "The Evolution of Political Thought," is a serious study spiced with an outrageous humor and has succeeded in infuriating liberals and conservatives alike.

How does Prof. Parkinson feel about this?

"I am," he said, smiling happily, "sleeping nicely, thank you."

HE LOOKS RATHER like a benign bulldog, but he is author of 18 books, for the past eight years has been head of the history department at the University of Malaya and seems devoted to the business of kicking over stuffed shirts and popular idols.

His waggery is such that his very existence has been doubted. His "Parkinson's Law," a jolly denunciation of bureaucratic practice in business as well as in government became a surprising, runaway best seller and is now in its 10th printing.

A national picture magazine and several newspapers promptly announced that the whole thing was an elaborate leg-pull, and that there was no such person as professor Parkinson.

Since then his corporeal existence has been firmly established here by appearance on television's "The Last Word." The professor was pleased by the debate over his existence. He dotes on confusion.

CONFUSION surrounded "Parkinson's Law" itself. He got the idea during World War II. The son of a well-known British marine painter, the professor followed in his father's footsteps, became so interested in the vessels he painted that he decided to learn about them. He became an expert on sea history, taught at Naval College, collected degrees from Cambridge and the University of London.

With all this maritime background it is only natural—if you follow Parkinson's Law—that he be transferred to the army in time of war. And so he was.

Bemused by his wartime experience, he finally evolved his law and set it forth in a short, very funny piece. In any organization, the law runs, the number of subordinates multiplies at a predictable annual rate, regardless of the amount of work done—if any.

Statistics, the law said, show that this increase ranges between 5.17 and 6.56 per cent per year. The professor bulwarked his law with figures from the British Admiralty. Between 1914 and 1928, the number of British capital ships dropped from 62 to 20, but admiralty officialdom jumped from 2,000 to 3,659.

"THOSE ARE ACTUAL figures," he recalled the other day. "Some doubt was cast on them, but it is now known that Parkinson's—like any natural law—is a universal. Some fellow in Washington used our formula, applied it to your U.S. fighting services and found it surprisingly accurate. It was, I believe, only a little low."

The piece enunciating this thesis ran in the sober, authoritative London "Economist," where it caused quite a stir. "I understand some persons read half way through before they decided it was not meant to be entirely serious," the professor said. "I was later asked by 'Punch' (the English humor magazine; why I did not submit it to them).

"I told them I hardly dared aspire to such heights. Buttering up the editors, you know. Actually, if this allegedly funny piece had appeared in an allegedly funny paper, it would have been forgotten in two weeks."

The 48-year-old professor is now engaged in a coast-to-coast lecture tour of the U.S., elaborating on his law for a country which delights in administration.

HE VIEWS IT with anticipation. After teaching at a Harvard summer school session, he was one of a group of visiting professors to hit some U.S. college campuses.

"We were shown a giant chart," he remembers. "There at the top was the chancellor. Then there were vice-chancellors. Then deans. Then assistant deans and so on. But nowhere was there any indication of professors or students. I began to see why you have your reputation as administrators."

A man of varied background—artist, museum assistant, stage manager, fellow at Cambridge, schoolmaster, radio script writer—he will not sit easily with anyone whose mind is made up about anything.

In "Evolution of Political Thought," he dismisses communism as "not a creed of great importance in the history of political thought." As for "the will of the people" as expressed in a democracy, Parkinson says:

"The will of the people in the modern world is the synthetic result of mass-suggestion, created by school, the press, films and radio."

IN AN AGE of viewers-without-alarm, it is refreshing to talk with a man who believes—without tears—that "one from rule replaces another, each in turn achieving no perfection but decay."

His attitude, however, is not Olympian. He confesses to his own weaknesses. He is poor at math, for example. "I asked my wife for the formulas in Parkinson's Law," he said. "Usually," his wife recalled, "just as I was changing the baby's napkin." (The Parkinsons have two children.)

He was asked, finally if he had reverence for anything. He hesitated, saying, "well, now, let's see." There was a long pause.

Odd Facts

Although he was not the first to glimpse land in the South Polar region, Charles Wilkes, commander of America's first naval exploring expedition, was the first definitely to announce the existence of an Antarctic Continent when in January and February of 1840 he sighted it and followed its coastline for a distance of about 1,500 miles.

Of America's 17 million dog-owning families, 80 per cent own one dog, 14 per cent have two dogs, 4 per cent have three and 2 per cent have four or more dogs. American dogs consume about nine billion pounds of food a year.

Dick Nixon Pitches In

By Warren Rogers Jr.

Takes Over Direction of GOP Campaign

WASHINGTON

Vice President Nixon has taken over direction of the Republican party's campaign and, one way or another, it should have a profound effect on his personal political future.

Nixon could have held aloof and quietly husbanded his strength for the presidential race in 1960. Instead, he chose to pitch in with exertions matching in frequency and vehemence his campaign efforts in 1954 when, as now, he was not a candidate.

The tide seems to be running against the Republicans. Democrats confidently predict big gains in both House and Senate and even control of California, second only to New York in political importance.

A Democratic landslide despite Nixon's efforts might tarnish his prospects in 1960. By closely identifying himself with the 1958 campaign, he has taken the risk of being so deeply snowed under that he might not be able to dig himself out in time for the Republican presidential nomination two years hence.

On the other hand, he might be better off if he can demonstrate enough political dynamism to narrow his margin of defeat if not stave it off entirely. In that case he might emerge as the rallying point for a revitalized GOP drive in 1960.

Nixon's determination to make a fight of it got him involved last week in a curious kind of public debate with the titular head of the party, President Eisenhower. In the upshot both Eisenhower and his chief Cabinet officer, Secretary of State Dulles, backtracked, and Nixon had his way.

Nixon's campaign oratory was stingingly sharp. He accused the Truman administration of being spendthrift and yet miserly with defense funds. He said it "spent more on peanuts than on missiles."

When the Democrats published a manifesto critical of Eisenhower foreign policy, Nixon fired back that "the Acheson foreign policy resulted in war and the Eisenhower-Dulles policy resulted in peace."

In the wake of this, Eisenhower and Dulles told their news conferences they hoped foreign policy would be kept out of the campaign. They appeared to frown on Nixon's slashing statements. But, after the vice president had a number of telephone conversations with Washington, they announced full support for him.

Eisenhower sent Nixon a telegram saying no one could outdo Nixon when it came to defending the administration against Democratic attacks on its foreign policy. Eisenhower generally has let Nixon do the campaign talking about domestic affairs, and the telegram seemed to give him a go-ahead in full.

Getting 'Bugged'

By Truman Twill

All of us who have the problem owe thanks to a handy new name for it — "bugged."

To get bugged is to be overcome by those little annoyances that wear away patience and tolerance, until there is nothing left in reserve.

The victim then flies into a senseless rage, or falls into a quivering heap. The next step is to drag him away to the hatch, or shovel him into a basket and take him to the psychiatrist for a humpty-dumpty restoration job.

It is no fluke that book publishers have made a mint with how-to-do-it-yourself books aimed at customers who have been bugged so often they are willing to try anything.

It is understandable that the sedative industry never had it so good and is in hot pursuit of new chemical substances that will make jittery customers sit down on the curb and watch the world go by, happy as so many twittering sparrows in the gutters — and about as useful.

It is no secret why the medical profession is in deep embarrassment about the steady rise of tension afflictions that is setting off the decline in premature dropouts from diseases the profession has licked.

The doctors admit that getting bugged by the petty annoyances of modern living is one of their problems, too — and they don't know what to do about it.

So, it's reassuring to know that there finally is a name for it — "bugged." It isn't quite so bad as a nervous breakdown, but it's a lot worse than having an attack of coffee nerves.

It is the 20th century's counterpart of the famed Chinese water treatment — the one that drove a victim crazy by strapping him in a fixed position and letting one drop of water at a time fall on his shaved head.

The first 100 drops, or even the first 1,000 drops meant nothing. But then the poor devil began to wait for the next one — and that was the beginning of the end.

Thus it is with getting bugged — now that there is a modern name for this old torture.

The first 100 drops of annoyance aren't much of anything. Even the first 1,000 provocations for flying off the handle can be borne without ill effect. But when the victim begins to wait for the next one — that's trouble.

The solution, if one ever can be found, will be to keep from getting bugged at all. It will be a way to induce immunity to annoyance.

Do you get bugged?

No? You have immunity?

Your fortune is made. A grievously bugged citizenry will beat a path to your door to buy your better bug-trap.

Dispute Over River

By Hollis Limprecht

OMAHA

Not all border disputes involve nations these days. A lively one is under way between Nebraska and Iowa and although commissions have been formed to settle the argument amicably, they aren't making much headway.

The meandering Missouri River which separates the two states is the cause of the dispute.

During the 80-odd years of statehood, the river has wandered back and forth across a flood plain several miles wide. The river banks were designated as the original boundary between the states. But every time the river has wandered or changed its course it has left some of Iowa on the Nebraska side of the river or some of Nebraska in Iowa.

ONE OF THE MOST valuable pieces of Iowa on the Nebraska side of the river is Carter Lake, Ia., a village of some 1,600 population.

Carter Lake, still Iowa territory, found itself on the Nebraska side of the river about 60 years ago when a flood caused a major change in the river's course.

Carter Lake is a thorn in the side of Omaha, a city of some 320,000 population. The village is located within the Omaha city limits, and persons wishing to reach the Omaha Municipal Airport from downtown must drive right by it.

What troubles the Nebraskans most is that when Omahans want to do a little after - hours gambling they go to Carter Lake — Iowa territory. Omaha authorities say that Iowa authorities are lax in enforcing the law in Carter Lake.

IF THE TWO STATES' boundary commissions can agree by the first or the year, their recommendations will go to the two legislatures for action. Although Iowa and Nebraska certainly will do a good deal of wrangling before reaching a decision, all concerned are happy to see the Corps of Engineers tie down the muddy Mo.

It would mean the river could never do a repeat on the costly track it pulled six years ago. Omaha, Ia., and Decatur, Neb., financed and built a bridge over the river to connect the two cities. Shortly after the bridge was finished the river went on one of its rampages.

closer to war, to imperil the prestige and the peace of the United States over little islands...which in the long run are untenable."

Both Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles had said they thought foreign policy should not be a subject of partisan debate, though each left some loopholes and later approved Nixon's action in attacking Democratic critics.

Truman said in Washington Friday he is glad that Eisenhower now "agrees with me" that foreign affairs should not be a campaign issue.

Butler was asked about that during a television interview. He said he thinks Truman was speaking then primarily as an ex-president who thinks there should be mercy on the man in the White House.

"I think the Republican party has made foreign affairs an issue by saying they are responsible for peace. Then the Democrats have the right to discuss foreign policy and areas of disagreement," he said.

Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn took issue with another Truman statement which described as "the Korean surrender" the armistice ending that struggle. Truman said, "A settlement was made that I could have made on the same terms three years before."

In a statement, Alcorn said that "the only possible interpretation to be made of this comment is that, if it were up to Mr. Truman and his party, Americans would still be bogged down in the casualty-ridden morass of the Korean War..."

Butler, questioned about his comments on civil rights during the television interview, said they applied specifically to Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas and also to Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss) if he felt the same way.

Chiang talks in advance by demonstrating their ability to blast Quemoy at will.

Regardless of the Red aim, it is believed here the termination of the cease-fire will react against the Communists throughout the free world. Dulles has said any resumption of shelling the Nationalist offshore islands would bring free world condemnation of Red China.

Whatever its real purpose, Red China's declared aim with respect to the United States has been to force American abandonment of Formosa. Since they could not expect to achieve that end by negotiations—in the diplomatic talks at Warsaw, for example—the Reds may well be trying to create a situation in which the Nationalists would lose faith in the power of the United States to support them effectively.

They may feel one way to go about that would be to turn off and turn on the shelling of Quemoy at will and, in effect, to tell the Nationalists as today's announcement did that they are being punished because their own leaders in cooperation with the United States did not live up to the truce conditions which Peiping had dictated.

Fog Blamed For Crash Near Waterford Park

Sunday morning's heavy fog was blamed for an auto accident in which cars driven by a Wellsville man and another operated by a Punxsutawney, Pa., resident collided on Route 66 near Waterford Park.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies reported that autos operated by John R. France, 20, of 1512 Chester Ave., Wellsville, and another driven by Sam Scava collided at the front entrance of the race track.

France's 1956 two-door sedan was damaged to the extent of $100, while Scava's 1952 Cadillac suffered about $150 damage. None was cited, as the fog made the accident unavoidable, deputies said. The mishap occurred at 8:30 a. m.

Louis Stutler was halted in June 1956 when the prosecution requested a continuance because the state's case had been weakened.

Dallas Bishop, former special officer who pleaded guilty to two enterings, refuted a 12-page statement on the witness stand in the Berman trial.

Bishop later was sentenced, but appealed for a new trial which was granted by the 7th District Court of Appeals. He subsequently was convicted this year of entering the Smith & Phillips Co. His appeal on this conviction is slated to be heard before the Appellate Court Wednesday at Youngstown.

Raimond was tried and convicted in December 1956 of receiving photographic goods stolen from the hardware store, but later was acquitted by the Appellate Court on a technicality.

Bishop's first trial on the Smith & Phillips Co. entering was declared a mistrial when the prosecution claimed a defense attorney placed his arm around a woman juror on the Courthouse steps, and thus tended to affect the juror's attitude in the case.

Stutler faces trial this term of court on a separate indictment handed down in June charging him with entering the hardware store in 1954.

Butler Speaks At Follansbee

Campaign Picks Up In West Virginia

By The Associated Press
West Virginia's political campaign headed into its next-to-last full week today, with National Democratic Chairman Paul M. Butler scheduled to address an evening Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner at Follansbee.

The weekend found all of the major candidates going at top speed. Sen. John D. Hobbittell (R-W.Va.), seeking election to a short-term seat in the Nov. 4 balloting, lashed at what he called Democrat's "wild spending schemes."

At Welch on Saturday night, meanwhile, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) said this year's election "can determine the destiny of our country for many years to come."

Johnson said the Republicans are kicking around a dead issue—socialism—and he added:

"But they can't beat unemployment, they can't beat sickness and disease, and they can't beat Khrushchev by resurrecting a dead man - and a dead issue - and kicking him around."

Hobbittell, in remarks prepared for an appearance at Clay yesterday, said that more inflation would have resulted if it had not been for a firm stand by President Eisenhower against Democrat-spending schemes.

He said that former Democratic Rep. Jennings Randolph of Elkins, Hobbittell's opponent, "has the audacity to speak of inflationary policies of the Eisenhower administration."

Seven billion dollars of the people's money, Hobbittell contended, is tied up in agricultural surpluses brought about by rigid farm price support programs of past Democratic administrations.

Randolph had said Saturday night at Grantsville that continuing inflation under the Eisenhower administration has increased government costs from the federal level all the way down through local agencies.

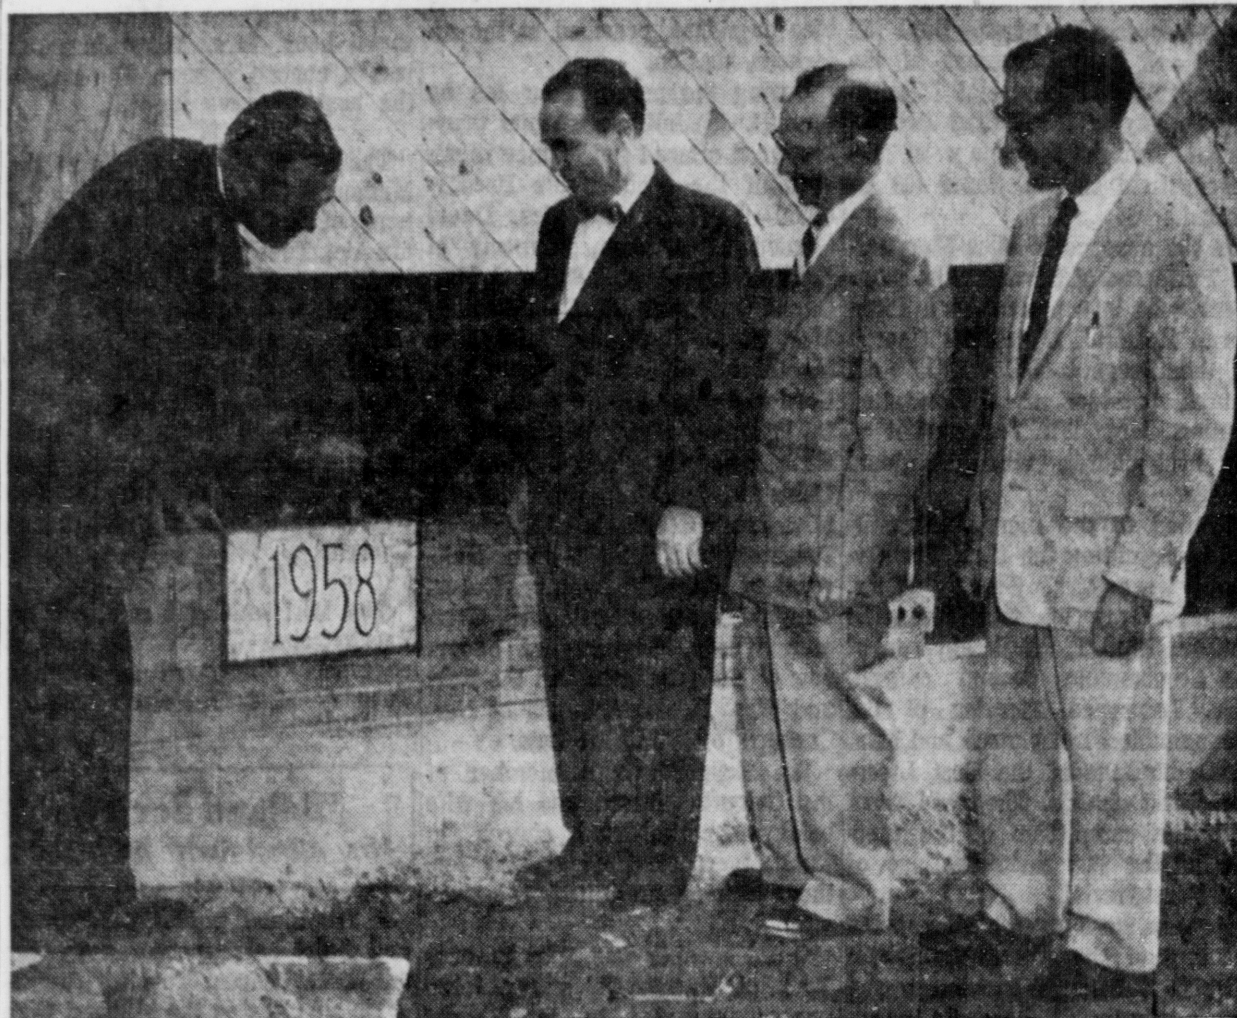

But for policies which forced interest rates up, Randolph said, the federal government would have had 4.2 billion dollars more of tax money for roads and other improvements, or to apply on national debt reduction.

Sen. Chapman Revercomb (R-W.Va.) told an audience at Ripley Saturday that the Eisenhower administration's farm program enables West Virginia farmers to receive a fairer share of the national income.

"Through agriculture research, many uses for farm commodities are being discovered, and new marks are being developed," he said. "This program will benefit farmers throughout the country."

Cornerstone Placed

Church Rite Draws 100

Approximately 100 attended the cornerstone laying of the new $125,000 air conditioned chapel of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints Saturday afternoon at Hoppes Corners on the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd.

Theodore C. Jacobsen of New York City, Eastern States Mission president, is shown with trowel in hand, assisting with the cornerstone laying. Looking on are Toney Adkins, center, East Liverpool branch president, Ethan Grow, building superintendent, and Owen S. Bunker, building project clerk. According to Adkins, the chapel should be finished in less than six months.

This is part of a worldwide building program which started June 12. The office of the building committee, which is in Salt Lake City, Utah, said there is now in planning and under construction 800 chapels throughout the world.

The chapel is being built with donated labor on a sub-contract basis.

According to Adkins, there are 32 men working on donated labor.

Cornerstones were donated by Graham & Wagner Monument Works. William Talbot has the sub-contract for brick and masonry. In the building program,

Strike Peace Sought

CINCINNATI (AP)—New talks were planned today between General Motors Corp. officials and United Auto Workers at the firm's Fisher Body plant here in an effort to settle a strike over local issues. Sunday UAW workers at the Fisher plant and the adjoining Chevrolet plant approved a master contract between GM and the union. But Chevrolet plant workers have not yet voted on a proposed agreement on plant issues reached last Friday.

Board Will Seek Bids On Pughtown School

Bids are expected to be advertised early in November by the Hancock County Board of Education for construction of a new 14-room elementary school at Pughtown to be built with proceeds of a $1 million bond issue recently approved by county voters.

Plans for the new school, which will cost an estimated $340,000, are slated to be completed by the end of this month by Ray Shaw of Pughtown, employed by the board as architect.

Construction of the new school probably will begin this winter, as the building was designed with a steel frame, enabling workers to go ahead with plans if the weather is not too severe, officials said. The school is scheduled to be open for classes by September, 1959.

Police Chief John Hephner was the inventory co-ordinator for preparing the analysis. It is part of a statewide program offered by the Ohio Department of Highway Safety in cooperation with the National Safety Council.

4,500 Return To Jobs

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — About 4,500 workers at the Packard Electric Division of General Motors Corp., idle since Oct. 2 because of a strike, returned to their jobs today. Picketing by members of Local 717 of the International Electrical Workers was halted Sunday when local issues were resolved in connection with a three-year national IUE contract with the company.

Reuther Gives Warren Plug As Candidate

CHICAGO (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren would receive serious consideration from American labor if he became a candidate for president, says Walter Reuther.

Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers, said in a television interview Sunday the Democrats have a dozen excellent potential candidates for president.

Among them, he said, are Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts, Gov. Robert Meyer of New Jersey and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York.

Reuther termed Vice President Nixon an extremely competent technician and politician but said he has "a streak of opportunism that bothers me as an individual."

The UAW president said there are several Republicans on whom labor might look kindly. When pressed to name them, he said, "Earl Warren would be entitled to serious consideration by the American labor movement and would get it."

Labor does not favor either political party, Reuther said, but considers each individual candidate on his record.

But, he said, "it gets more difficult to find a Republican candidate worthy of our support."

Union Approves Pact With Cleveland Papers

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Typographical Union members have given tentative approval to a two-year contract with the city's three daily newspapers, the Plain Dealer, News and Press.

The agreement provides pay raises of $3.50 a week this year, $3 next year and a seventh paid holiday for the 580 workers covered.

The pay raises, retroactive to Sept. 30 when the old contract expired, boosts weekly wage scales to $121.25 for the 37½-hour day shift; $127.42 for the night shift of 36¼ hours; and $129.23 for the "lobster" shift of 35 hours.

Anthony J. Satallo, CTU president said only a few members opposed the agreement when a vote was taken Sunday. Formal ratification will follow distribution of printed copies to members and a review by the international union headquarters at Indianapolis.

Calls Governorship Important Thing

DiSalle Refuses To Debate Further On Right To Work

CLEVELAND (AP)—Michael V. DiSalle, Democratic candidate for governor who opposes the proposed state constitutional amendment to regulate labor union contracts, refused to be drawn into questioning on the subject Sunday night.

Appearing on a local television program DiSalle was asked about the proposal, known as Issue 2. He replied by saying his opposition to the question was well known and added, "It will be history two weeks from next Tuesday."

The important thing, DiSalle said, is who is going to be governor.

"The problems of governorship will be with us for four years."

The proposed amendment, requiring a yes or no vote, says: "No employer or labor organization shall deny or abridge the right to work by requiring membership or non-membership in, or payment of employment or continued employment in this state."

DiSalle asserted the Republican state administration has neglected Ohio mental institutions and

Speakers Hit Bricker View On Work Plan

Morse And Young Appear At Warren During Labor Rally

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) and Stephen M. Young, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate in Ohio, teamed Sunday night in an attack on the proposed amendment to regulate labor contracts.

Morse struck at the theory of the amendment while Young took off on his opponent, Sen. John W. Bricker, for supporting the proposal, known in Ohio as Issue 2.

"Right-to-work laws in Ohio or any state are just the beginning of a campaign by anti-labor forces to tear down welfare legislation such as social security, unemployment compensation and similar measures," Morse asserted.

"Right-to-work laws tend to be destructive of unions and stable collective bargaining and they are destructive of the public interest."

"They defeat national policy by hamstringing unions and encouraging labor-management distrust and economic struggle."

Young shared the speaking platform with the Oregon senator at a rally sponsored by United Organized Labor of Trumbull County. The meeting was attended by 1,800 persons.

Young said Bricker's support of the proposal was made in desperation to get re-elected.

"It is only in his desperation to get re-elected that he attempts to perpetrate this gigantic hoax on the people of Ohio," the Democrat asserted.

"Mr. Bricker's attempts to pose as a friend of labor and, at the same time, perpetrate upon them the so-called right-to-work proposal is nothing more than sheer hokum and deliberate fraud," Young declared.

The proposed amendment in Ohio, requiring a yes or no vote Nov. 4, says:

"No employer or labor organization shall deny or abridge the right to work by requiring membership or non-membership in, or payment or non-payment of money to, a labor organization as a condition of employment or continued employment in this state."

Woman Held In Death Of Air Force Sergeant

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A woman with whom he shared an apartment for about a year apparently shot and killed an Air Force staff sergeant Sunday, police say.

The victim was S-Sgt. Walter L. Nichols, 24, of Smyrna, Ga., stationed at Lockbourne Air Force Base near here. He was found shot to death Sunday in a South Side apartment. Police said he was married.

Heard for investigation of homicide is Mrs. Hazel Long, 32. Detectives said she told them Nichols made advances in the apartment's bedroom after a drinking session with friends, angering her and prompting her to take out a .25 caliber automatic and shoot.

She told them she and Nichols shared the apartment for about a year, they added. A coroner's verdict was withheld pending investigation.

PITTSBURGH, N.J. (AP)—Wade Everitt Griswold, 62, a retired printing executive, was found shot to death Sunday. Police termed the death a suicide. He retired last July as executive director of the Lithographic Technical Foundation in New York.

CLEVELAND (AP)—With the season one-third over, the Cleveland Browns were coasting with a two-game lead atop the Eastern Division of the National Football League today, four straight victories under their belts.

sive tackle, is in Marymount Hospital with a knee injury and is out of the lineup indefinitely.
A crowd of 66,852 watched the Browns' sensational running pair—Bobby Mitchell and blockbuster Jim Brown—put on another great performance. Brown snared a short pass from Milt Plum and sped 27 yards for the Browns' first touchdown late in the first period.

Then in the second period he eased around end and sprinted 52 yards for the second touchdown. He set up the final touchdown in the fourth quarter with successive runs of 7, 42, 3 and 1 yard. Mitchell scored that touchdown catching Plum's 7-yard pass in the end zone.

The other Browns' touchdown was on a 36-yard pass from Plum to Ray Renfro in the second period after Bobby Freeman intercepted a pass from Bobby Layne. Brown, the league's leading ground gainer, boosted his total yardage to 635 for four games, picking up 153 yards in 19 tries Sunday.

The elusive Mitchell went 108 yards in 13 carries.
Quarterback Bobby Layne, acquired by the Steelers from Detroit two weeks ago—following the 45-12 drubbing the Browns handed the Steelers at Pittsburgh—was unable to move the team against the rocky Browns' defense.

The lone Pittsburgh touchdown—the first score in the game—came on a long, wobbly pass to Ray Mathews from halfback Tom Tracy, who took the ball on a handoff from Layne. It covered 64 yards. The Steelers did not score again until midway in the final quarter, when Tom Miner booted a 47-yard field goal.

Tracy, a workhorse on the Steelers' offense, was carried out of the game early in the fourth quarter after he suffered leg cramps. The Browns' kicking specialist, Lou Groza, suffered a head injury in the first quarter and was out until the third quarter when he returned to make a 41-yard field goal attempt. The ball struck the upright and bounced outside. A Groza field goal attempt from the Steeler 19 was blocked in the first quarter.

Plum, who kicked two points after touchdown, shared kicking chores with Bob Gain while Groza was out. Gain too was injured in the third quarter shortly before Groza returned to action.
Dr. Vic Ippolito, team physician, believes McCormack suffered cartilage damage. He said he wouldn't know how long McCormack will be out until he sees how the knee responds to treatment.

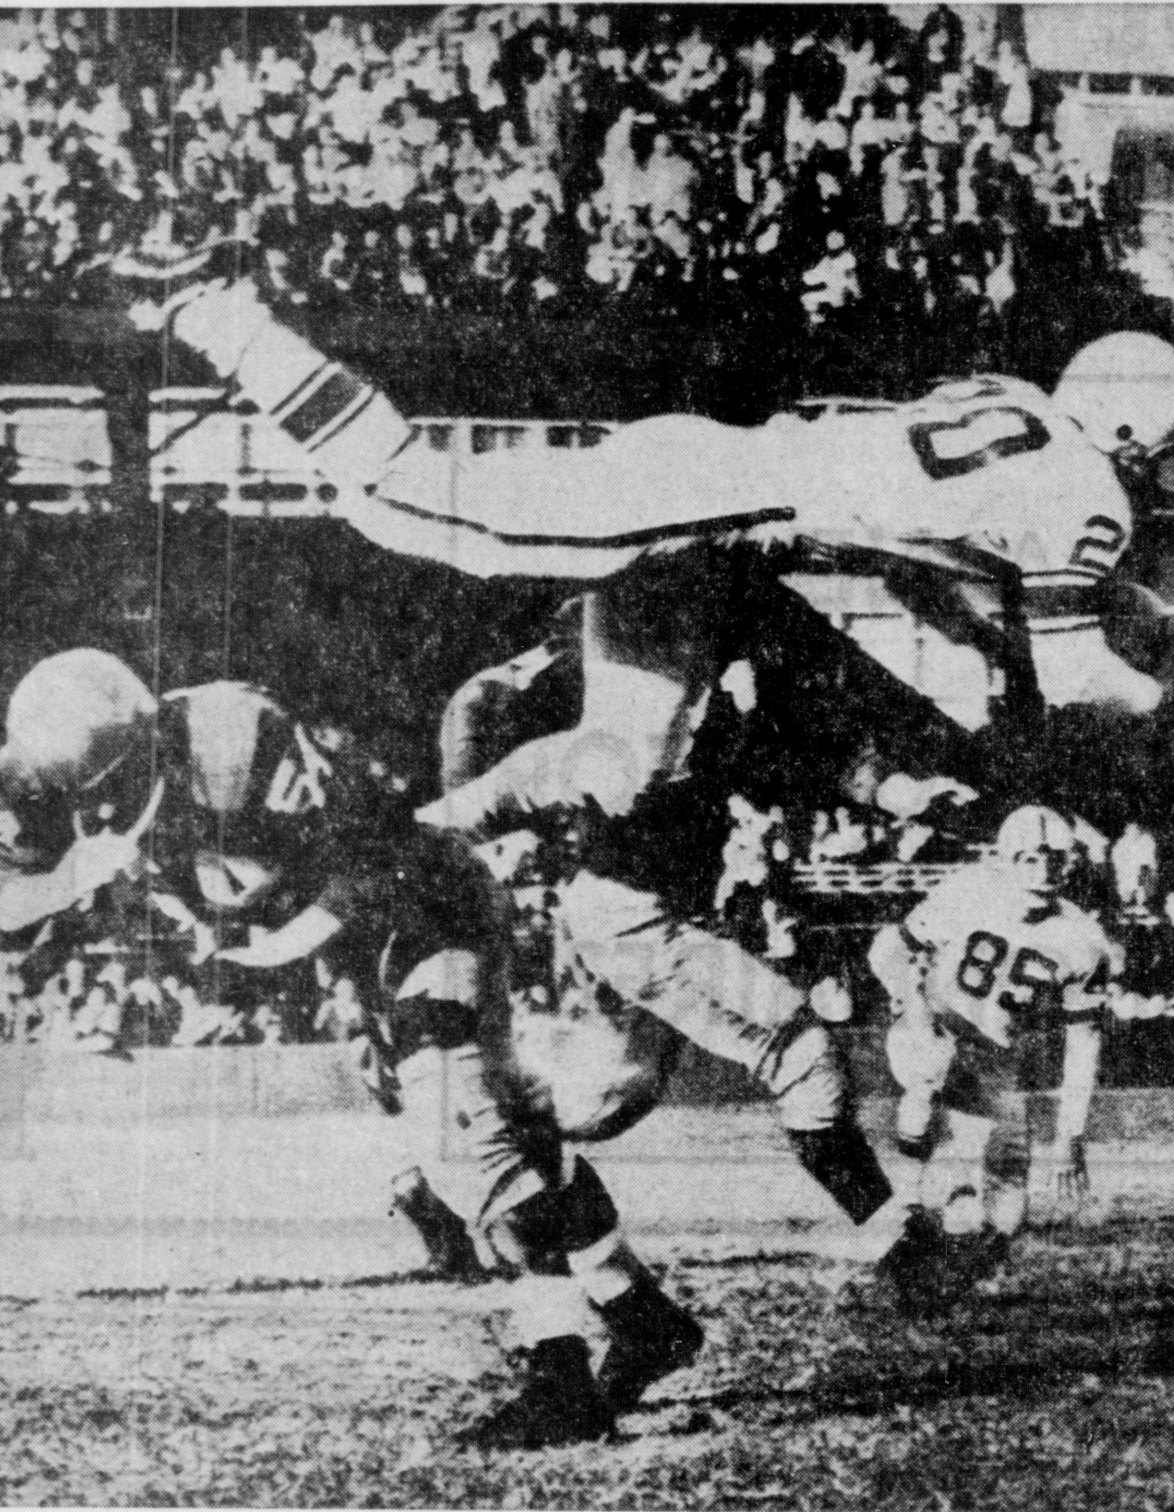

Brown said he will shift Willie McClung to offensive tackle as a replacement.

'We'll Win Them All,' Hemus Says On Tour

TOKYO (AP)—The barnstorming St. Louis Cardinals flew into Tokyo today and their cigar-smoking new manager, Solly Hemus, said: "We're going to win all 16 games during our Japan visit. We're going to be contenders for the 1959 National League pennant. My boys are going to hit at least 25 home runs in Japan."
"No one wants to lose even goodwill games," Hemus said. "We came to Japan to win every game we can."
The Cardinals hopped into Tokyo from Okinawa aboard a chartered Japan airliner "Cardinal Special."
They were given a rousing welcome by more than 1,500 fans, most of them flag-waving school children.

Angry Bears Top Rams; Colts Win Four In Row

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
The Chicago Bears are fighting mad.

Favored to win the Western Conference title in the National Football League, the Chicagoans today are in sole possession of second place, only a game behind first-place Baltimore.

The Bears advanced by defeating Los Angeles 31-10 Sunday, but it was owner-coach George Halas, involved in one of the brawls that periodically broke out, who probably instilled the "get tough" attitude.

With the Rams leading 7-0 in the first quarter, Chicago's Ed Brown hit Harlon Hill with a sideline pass and the Rams defenders likewise hit Hill, shoving him out of bounds with authority.

Lincoln Clips Old Record In Double Win

Though East Liverpool's cross-country team lost two meets over the weekend, Warren Lincoln continued his hot pace by smashing a record Friday against Bellaire at the Country Club course and finishing first in a six-team meet Saturday at St. Clairsville.

Bellaire whipped the Potters, 23-32, but Lincoln streaked over the two-mile distance in a time of 10:17, clipping 16 seconds off his old mark of 10:33 set earlier this month against Lisbon. He was pushed all the way by Bellaire's Hunter, who ran second in a time of 10:25. Other Potter runners finishing in the first 10 were Jan Allen, sixth, Bob Christian, seventh, Don Seibert, eighth, and Don Hildebrand, 10th.

Saturday, Lincoln stretched his undefeated string to six straight at St. Clairsville. His time was 9:47.5, while Bellaire's Hunter again ran second. Bellaire's 37 points won the meet, while Pittsburgh Central was second with 43, East Liverpool third with 70, St. Clairsville fourth with 90, Martins Ferry fifth with 127 and Marietta finished last. Low score wins in cross-country competition.
The Potters now have a record of two victories and four defeats. The next event will be a district meet Saturday at St. Clairsville at 10 a. m.

Halas charged down the sidelines, protesting Hill's roughing up. The Rams' Don Burroughs shoved Halas nearly off his pins.

Bear guard Abe Giron pushed Burroughs.
The entire Bear squad rose en masse, but a few words from Halas quieted the situation. Apparently the incident incited the Bears to retaliate with the football.

Baltimore, meanwhile, retained the division lead, trampling defending champion Detroit 40-14. Cleveland defeated Pittsburgh 27-10 to remain at the head of the Eastern Conference.
In other games, Chicago's Cardinals downed New York 23-6, San Francisco edged Philadelphia 30-24, and Washington beat Green Bay 37-21.

Los Angeles (2-2) took its 7-0 lead on a 92-yard Billy Wade to Del Shofner pass, longest scoring aerial of the season. Rookie Erich Barnes tied it, blocking a field goal try and running 41 yards with the loose ball to score. Two TDs by Willie Galimore iced it for Chicago (3-1).

The Colts (4-0) won on the arm of Johnny Unitas, who pitched a touchdown to Jim Mutscheller in the fourth quarter. It was the 19th straight game in which Unitas had tossed a TD. In all, Unitas passed for more than 200 yards. The Lions (0-3-1) came within a touchdown of the Colts on Yale Lary's 71-yard punt return but wilted in the last period.

Cleveland (4-0) moved two games in front in the East on the running of Jimmy Brown and rookie Bob Mitchell.

HANOVERTON — Visiting Randolph preserved its perfect record by downing United, 14-0, here Saturday afternoon.

Winner of five straight games, Randolph struck for first- and third-period touchdowns in handing United's Golden Eagles their second setback in six games.

Jack Kline scored Randolph's first touchdowns on an 18-yard run and Dan Lucas threw 31 yards to Dan Schuck for its other marker. Kline added the extra points on a rush after his first half score.

It was the first shutout suffered by United, which was unable to solve the stiff Randolph defense.

Wisconsin, Homecoming Will Test OSU Saturday

By FRITZ HOWELL

Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State, fresh from its 49-8 romp over hapless Indiana, expects a sterner test this week as the unbeaten Bucks tangle with Wisconsin.

The Badgers were belted from the unbeaten list by Iowa, 20-9, in Saturday's fray—and should be on the rebound for the homecoming classic here slated to attract some 83,000 fans.

A year ago Wisconsin had 16 first downs to Ohio's 8 and out-gained the Bucks 274 to 251 yards, but lost 16-13 on Don Sutherin's field goal. The current Badgers whipped Purdue 31-6 and Purdue upset Michigan State 14-6.

The big Bucks had such an easy time against Indiana that Coach Woody Hayes said he'd probably scrimmage his first stringers late today to keep them sharp—an unusual maneuver for Monday.

Woody spent most of Sunday reviewing films of the Indiana game—and looking over the scouting reports on Wisconsin. While he was doing that, the town was buzzing about his stormy midfield assault on the officials demanding that they pay more attention to rule infractions. The tirade cost the Bucks a 15-yard penalty—Woody's second similar setback of the year.

As Ohio gets into the serious sector of the Big Ten scrap—with Wisconsin, Northwestern, Purdue, Iowa and Michigan coming up on consecutive Saturdays—the state's other colleges also have some hefty chores on tap.

The Ohio Conference championship could hinge on the Wittenberg at Akron game. Wittenberg is pacing the 14-college field with three straight, but Akron handed Wooster its first league loss Saturday to move into the second spot with 4-1. All the others have been beaten, nine of them twice or more.

Bowling Green could move into a Mid-American tie with Miami at 3-0 by beating Kent State, setting the stage for the Redskin-Falcon title affair the following week. Miami, after disposing of Ohio U. Saturday, takes on Indiana this week—and the Redskins are given a good chance to topple the Hoosiers.

The weekend schedule calls for 22 games, 10 against out-of-state foes. Last Saturday the Ohioans won six of nine interstate contests for a season record of 33 wins, 12 losses and two ties, and a scoring advantage of 902 to 643.

The schedule:
Friday night
Baldwin Wallace vs St. Vincent at Latrobe, Pa.
Saturday
Mid-American: Marshall at Ohio Univ., Kent State at Bowling Green, Toledo at Western Michigan.

Ohio Conference: Otterbein at Marietta, Oberlin at Kenyon, Wittenberg at Akron, Hiram at Mount Union, Capital at Denison, Muskingum at Heidelberg (night).
Presidents' Conference: Case at John Carroll.

Mid-Ohio League: Wilmington at Findlay, Ohio Northern at Defiance, Bluffton at Ashland.

Important Conference Grid Games Are On Tap This Week

Upsets Juggle Standings In Major Loops

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Half a dozen major conferences have important—if not critical—games this week.

Any or all of the six could produce winners that were pooh-poohed in preseason ratings.

The Big Ten, Big Eight, Southeastern, Pacific Coast, Atlantic Coast and Southwest are in such a state of confusion that the coaches have to peer at the standings to believe their eyes.

Taking them in order:

Big Ten—Who would have given a plugged shilling for Northwestern's chances before the call to action? Answer: No one, including Northwestern.

The Wildcats were the sad sacks of the league last year, dropping their entire schedule. Now they've done a complete about-face and are one of the dozen or so remaining undefeated.

Major teams in the country.

Last Saturday, they laid emphatic claim to championship consideration by walloping Michigan 55-24.

This Saturday, Northwestern meets Iowa, another title aspirant. The winner figures to fight it out with Ohio State for the title.

Big Eight—Who ever would have any doubts of the winner of the crown? It simply always is Oklahoma. The Sooners have won up in front for the past 11 years. But this time around, they have proved human, losing to Texas as a couple of weeks back.

Furthermore, Colorado, which usually winds up a discouraging second to the Sooners, has come up with a tough team this year—the only undefeated club in the league. In fact, the Buffs play Oklahoma Nov. 1.

This week, they play Nebraska while Oklahoma goes against Kansas State. Both, of course, are heavy favorites. The Buffs licked Iowa State 20-0, and the Sooners clubbed Kansas 43-0 Saturday.

Southeastern—Before the season, it was all Auburn. Now the Tigers have had their 17-game winning streak snapped and they are not even the favorites for the title any more.

Georgia Tech tied them Saturday 7-7.

The word now is Louisiana State, which has won five in a row, including a 32-7 decision over Kentucky Saturday.

Pacific Coast—Oregon appeared headed toward a second title in a row until the Ducks came acrop-

'The Thing' Joins 'Lonesome End'

EASTON, Pa. — Army's football team has the lonesome end and now Lafayette College, surprise leader of the Middle Atlantic Conference's university division, has the "The Thing."

"We call it 'The Thing' because we don't have a name for it," Jim McConlogue, making his debut this year as head coach at Lafayette, said today.

Pete Stevens, Temple coach, has a name for it, but his version is slightly unprintable. Lafayette used "The Thing" on its first play Saturday and scored a touchdown.

Stevens claimed the play disoriented his team, which went down to a 35-0 defeat.

It took a week's practice and some acting talent on the part of the Lafayette players to pull off "The Thing" which went like this:

Bob Howard, Haddonfield, N. J., center, called the huddle five yards to the left of the football instead of the usual distance straight back of the ball. Temple lined up on the ball, as usual.

When Howard broke from the huddle, he pretended he didn't know where the ball was.

Wayne Cipriani, Monessen, Pa., quarterback, sent his team directly to the line of scrimmage. Howard ran to the ball, yelling, "Over here, fellows."

per 6-0 at Washington State Saturday. California, relegated to an also-ran spot in September, upset Southern California 14-12 to take the lead and now has a showdown battle ahead with Oregon.

Atlantic Coast—North Carolina State, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina—the big boys. Forget 'em. Look, instead, to Clemson, sporting a 4-0 conference record and with victories over North Carolina and Maryland. The Tigers meet South Carolina in a traditional game Thursday.

Southwest—Before the season, they said Southern Methodist could take it. Southern Methodist's record currently is 1-3. Likewise, they said Texas Christian probably would be right up there. TCU has been shaky, although it turned back Texas A&M 24-8 while Rice was dropping SMU 13-7. Texas is the only undefeated team in the conference and figures to get past Baylor this week. The Longhorns could go all the way.

Up at the top of the heap, Army, No. 1 in the country, places its 4-0 record on the line Saturday against Pitt, in a game that will decide the Eastern championship. The Cadets defeated Virginia 35-6 in their last outing and Pitt decided West Virginia 15-8.

The setback knocked the Mid-dies from the ranks of the unbeaten, and the victory was the first in five starts for Tulane this year.

"I have no alibi," Erdelatz said frankly. "The boys played a good game and I take full blame for the defeat. I made some bad calls. I was caught second guessing a couple of times in the first quarter and I think that's what beat us."

The burly Navy coach lauded the play of Tulane. He said he had looked for a tough game, but "I did expect Tulane to pass more."

Everyone else did too, and that's where the Greenies took the Mid-dies by surprise. Tulane found it could run well against the Navy defense and didn't need to risk pass interceptions.

Beaver Local Routed, 40-0, By South Side

A heavier South Side team scored four touchdowns in the first half and later added a pair in the final quarter to shut out Beaver Local, 40-0, at the Beavers' field Saturday afternoon.

Quarterback Dan Frasier tossed three touchdown passes and Quentin Schmidt chipped in with two markers to pace South Side to its third victory of the season. The Rams have lost two.

It was the fifth loss in six starts for Coach Jack O'Rourke's Beaver Local eleven, which is short in depth and experience.

John Ross opened the South Side scoring on the first play from scrimmage by going 25 yards around his own right end. He added the point by placement.

In the second period, halfback Schmidt scored on a 30-yard gallop and Frasier threw 49 yards to Ross and 20 yards to Baker for two more touchdowns. Ross kicked the extra point after the first and last touchdowns of the quarter.

Frasier tossed his third touchdown pass — a short two-yard heave to Frank Golden in the end zone — in the final period. Schmidt scored on a one-yard plunge after a South Side drive.

Services Normal Again After Freight's Pileup

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Service was back to normal today on the Pennsylvania Railroad's mainline east of Pittsburgh after being blocked some 16 hours by the derailment of 16 ore-laden cars.

The accident occurred early Sunday as the 78-car train inbound from Altoona was passing through the railroad's interlocking plant at Larimer, about 20 miles east of Pittsburgh. No one was hurt.

A railroad spokesman said one car apparently was derailed at Larimer, three miles east of the interlocking plant where the main pileup occurred.

Other trains were rerouted, resulting in schedule delays of up to an hour. One of the four tracks was cleared Sunday afternoon, the others in the evening.

Optimistic Mounts Over End Of Year

CLEVELAND (AP)—Signs of the economic recovery are so compelling that even conservative steel producers are getting bullish, Steel Magazine said in its issue out today.

It predicted that steelmaking operations will reach 85 per cent of rated capacity before the end of the year, a jump of 10 per cent over the most optimistic forecast a few weeks ago.

The metalworking weekly pointed out that when the recession began consumers cut their steel inventories drastically, but now with the first signs of better business they're hastily building stocks. As a result the recovery in steel production is faster than it is in the metal consuming industries, it added.

"Steelmakers who challenged the prediction that 1959 output would be at least 110 million ingot tons are beginning to accept that estimate," the publication said, "but they don't think peak operations next year will exceed 90 per cent."

Steel said that about 10 per cent of the industry's capacity is obsolete and that producers won't use high cost facilities unless they have to. It added that demand won't require 100 per cent operations unless hedging against a threatened steel strike starts.

Automobile production is affected by spot strikes, resulting in a delay of steel orders. Auto assemblies are less than half of what they were a year ago, Steel said. It estimated that General Motors Corp. has delayed shipment of about two weeks' steel tonnage.

Steelmaking operations jumped 2.5 points last week to 74 per cent of capacity as additional furnaces were relighted at some mills. This was a new high for the year. The output totaled about 1,997,000 million net tons and was the largest of any week since that ended Nov. 3 last year.

Steel's price composite on steel-making scrap remained at $42.33 a gross ton compared with $43 a month ago.

Family Mounts To 10 As Stork Brings Quads

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Quadruplets were born early today to the wife of a Richmond city employee. The hospital reported the children—two boys and two girls—are all alive and apparently well.

They were born to Mrs. Edward G. Englehart of nearby Sandston, in Johnston-Willis Hospital. The Engleharts have six other children, all girls.

The hospital said the first child, a girl, was born at 5:05 a.m. A boy was born at 5:15 a.m., the other girl at 5:25 and the other boy at 5:30 a.m.

Englehart works for the Richmond Department of Public Works.

First Time In History

$50 Billion Year Seen For Building

NEW YORK — New building construction in 1959 will top $50 billion for the first time in history, reports Architectural Forum.

The building magazine's annual forecast sees a 5 per cent rise in industry volume from this year's $49.2 billion level to a probable $51.6 billion next year. Author of Forum's forecast is construction economist Miles L. Colean.

This will be the first time in four years, Forum says, that construction has started to expand rapidly. Moreover, even allowing for price rises, physical volume will rise by about 3 per cent — a whopping expansion in an industry that accounts for more than 10 per cent of total U. S. production.

Forum's forecast makes these other specific points:

Public construction will give the biggest boost to building's bright prospects next year — up 8.7 per cent to a total of $16.8 billion.

Non-farm housing starts will total at least 1,155,000, compared with 1,060,000 this year.

Some $1.8 billion will go into new apartment building, with the number of units started coming to 185,000.

Public housing, which posted a spectacular 60 per cent increase this year (largely due to facilities for military posts) is expected to rise 3.1 per cent to $325 million.

Some $3 billion will go for school construction, a 3 per cent increase over this year.

One of the few minus signs will be posted by industrial building — down from $2.4 to $2.1 billion, the lowest level in five years.

New office construction will taper off, but store building will rise. Over-all commercial building will drop 2.9 per cent to $3.4 billion.

Spending for churches will remain level at $850 million, with an increase expected during 1960. Military building dropped sharply during 1958, but will turn up slightly to $1.3 billion in 1959.

Money for building, Forum says, should be more plentiful in 1959, particularly during the first six months. However, building costs

ATTIC FLOOR PLAN PLAN HA58-Y

ECONOMY OF CONSTRUCTION is a feature of this Cape Cod style house. The plan calls for all lumber in standard lengths, eliminating waste. There is an attic area which can be finished at a later date. The plan, HA58-Y, is by Architect Herman H. York, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica 32, New York. The first floor has 815 sq. ft., the carport 258 sq. ft., and the attic area 433 square feet.

Heating Cost Can Be Slashed With Good Weather Stripping

Storm - sash and weather stripping are of great importance when it comes to reducing the fuel bill, so the home owner who is preparing his house against the assaults of the winter season should see that either or both of these essential items are included in his arrangements.

Storm - sash stops the cold effect of the chilled window-glass on the house temperature. Weather stripping prevents the escape of heated air and the introduction of cold air through loose sash. Another good thing about weather stripping is that it stops the rattling of windows during heavy wind, a sound that seems to increase that cold feeling during a bad winter night.

Because of the improvement in the manufacture of window sash, many of the better quality new homes come with the weather stripping already incorporated in the windows, but the average house built several years ago will not have this improvement.

These are several different types of weather strip. One is the metal type, which takes a good man to install. Another is the wood strip with a rubber edge, which anyone can tack into place. The third and least costly is the felt strip which comes in rolls and can be readily attached by the amateur. Any one of these types is well worth having on your windows and doors.

If you cannot install weather stripping on all of them, it should at least be put on the windows or doors which face the direction from which the winter winds and storms usually come.

If the wood - strip type is being used or the felt tape put on, the owner of the house should remember to fit it in place while the window or door is in a closed position.

YMCA Officials Conduct 'Retreat'

The secretaries of 11 district YMCA organizations, along with their wives and children, conducted a retreat Sunday at Pine Ridge Camp in Madison Township, operated by the East Liverpool Y.

In addition to the local Y staff and their families, the group included: Kurt Fox, general secretary, Harvey Fee, associate, Clyde Campbell, program and outpost work, and William McElowney, physical director, all of Wheeling; Allen Twombly, new general secretary at Elkins; Ray Munsee, general secretary, Richard Davison, physical director, and Dale McCandless, boy's secretary, all of Steubenville, and Robert Carlson, general secretary, and Herb Brenner, physical director of Parkersburg.

The associations' programs were discussed, along with plans for the fall and winter. The Parkersburg association will be host to the next meeting of the group in about three months.

Officers Re-elected

CINCINNATI (AP) — Members of district seven of the Electrical Workers Union (AFL-CIO) wound up their annual convention Sunday by re-electing all officers, including Priscilla Halmage of Warren, recording secretary, Thomas Flood of Mansfield was named a trustee.

Do You Have Extinguisher To Fight Fire?

It is impossible to dispute the fact that about 95 per cent of all house fires start in a small way.

The best of authorities say that it is the first few minutes after the origin of the fire that decides whether or not it is to be a major conflagration. Yet, strange as it may seem in this supposedly intelligent age, only about one of every eight homes in this country has a fire extinguisher of any kind.

Actually, you could start at one end of the street you live on and walk to the other end, stopping at every house and asking if they had a fire extinguisher, and you would meet with a blank stare of amazement from seven out of eight owners.

All of this in spite of the best efforts of bureaus such as the National Fire Prevention and the Fire Underwriters.

Fire extinguishers are not expensive items, and they have been developed and improved tremendously in the last several years. One of the best and most efficient types we have seen is a neat chrome - plated cylinder, resting in a wall bracket from where it can be lifted with one hand, and which contains a liquid under pressure. By pressing on the flat button on the top of the cylinder, a strong jet of fire - quenching solution is ejected for a distance of more than 12 feet.

This is far enough to enable you to stand well away from the fire to be put out. This is a great improvement over the powder types which had to be thrown on a fire, and an improvement over the types which had to be pumped. Every home should be equipped with at least three extinguishers. One in the kitchen, one in the heater or furnace room and one in the hall leading to the bedrooms. Another in the garage would not be amiss.

The average adult in repose breathes about 18 times a minute.

40 Witnesses Are Due In Pittsburgh 'Payoffs'

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Some 40 witnesses will be called to testify, starting Wednesday, before a federal grand jury investigating alleged racket payoffs to high Pittsburgh police officials.

U. S. Atty. Hubert Teitelbaum said the probe will be pushed despite what he called pressure to soft-pedal it.

He declined to state the source of the alleged pressure, but said it did not come from the police department.

Teitelbaum said he has reliable evidence that high police officials have accepted bribes from racket figures.

He added that the grand jury would not call defendants or witnesses involved in bribery cases being prosecuted by the state.

5 Cars Pile Up In Jefferson Crash Series

Fog-Shrouded Road Blamed In Mishaps Injuring 6 Persons

Six persons were injured, two of whom were hospitalized, in a five-car pileup during the heavy fog Saturday at 10 a. m. on Route 213 about two miles south of the Route 7 junction.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said the mishaps were logged as four separate accidents. Here's the chronological report prepared by investigating officers: A car driven by Mrs. Hanna M. Brown, 48, of Irondale was hit in the rear by another driven by William R. Weaver, 22, of Madison Ave., Toronto.

A few minutes later, another car driven by Ralph R. Larue, 58, of Hammondsville struck the rear of the Weaver vehicle.

Weaver, Larue and his wife, Mrs. Maude Larue, then got out of their respective autos to inspect the damage. While they were standing between the cars, a fourth driven by James E. Lowry, 21, of Irondale hit the rear of the Larue vehicle.

Weaver and Larue were pinned between the cars but Mrs. Larue was knocked clear.

A few minutes later a fifth car, driven by James G. Duck, 32, of Irondale hit the rear of the Lowry car.

Officers said considerable damage resulted to all the cars except the one driven by Mrs. Brown.

Weaver received a fractured leg when pinned between the cars. He is in "good" condition today at City Hospital.

Mrs. Gertrude Lowry, 50, of Irondale, a passenger in her son's car, is in "good" condition today at the hospital with contusions and abrasions of the nose and contusions of the chest and right leg.

Mrs. Ocie Allen, 36, of Irondale, a passenger in Mrs. Brown's car, received possible back injuries.

Larue suffered possible back and hip injuries while Mrs. Larue, 54, suffered bruises of both legs. Lowry received a bump on the head.

Weaver, Larue, Lowry and Duck all were cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance. They will receive hearings Saturday before Judge Helen Huntsman of Toronto.

Three motorists were arrested following an accident Saturday afternoon at 4 on Route 213 near the junction with Route 152, the patrol said.

Cars driven by Larry J. Hitchcock, 18, of Toronto and Robert Emorey, 19, of Toronto R. D. 2 were parked on the highway, facing in opposite directions. The drivers were talking when Lewis G. Hudson, 21, of Irondale hit the rear of Hitchcock's car, officers said.

Hitchcock and Emorey were cited for stopping on the highway and Hudson was arrested for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Salineville Boy Hurt In Crash On Route 39

A Salineville boy was injured in a collision of two cars on Route 39 near Wellsville Saturday, one of three area mishaps reported by the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

A car driven by Benjamin Eastham, 36, of Irondale developed motor trouble on Route 39 about a half mile from Wellsville and he pulled across the roadway in an effort to get onto the wide berm.

His car collided with an oncoming auto driven by Jack Fields, 32, of Superior St., Salineville. Jackie Fields, 11, passenger in Fields' car, suffered a laceration of the forehead and was treated by a Wellsville physician.

Eastham was cited for reckless operation.

Robert McPherson, 16, of 441 Washington St., Lisbon, was cited for failure to halt in the assured clear distance after his car hit the rear of another on Route 45 just south of Salem Sunday morning.

Officers said McPherson hit the rear of a car driven by Myer Dorfman, 50, of Steubenville, who slowed for traffic ahead.

John R. Agudio, 18, of Beaver Falls was injured when he lost control of his car on Route 154 near the Pennsylvania state line and it rolled over last night at 10.

Agudio was treated at Salem City

Four Multi-Fatal Accidents

25 Killed During Weekend In Series Of Ohio Mishaps

By The Associated Press
Death roamed Ohio's highways Sunday.

Before the day ended, the weekend accidental death toll for the state had been doubled. In all, 25 people died in mishaps between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday. Four multi-fatal accidents Sunday were partially responsible for the sudden increase, but two persons were killed in a single accident Friday night and two more in another single accident Saturday.

Once again, motor vehicles caused the most deaths. In fact, only one death was not attributed to traffic.

That was the death of golf caddy Sam Romanello in Cincinnati Saturday. The 12-year-old youngster died about an hour after a sharpshooting piece of metal shot out of a trash fire and cut a vein in his throat.

Witnesses said the boy tossed a pressurized can in the fire at Hyde Park Country Club. It exploded.

Not counted in the weekend toll was the death of Jerry Johns, 15, of Rt. 1, Greenville, He and his younger brother Ronald, 12, were hit by a truck as they rode their bicycles on U.S. 36 Friday.

Ronald died Friday. Jerry died Saturday night in the hospital.

Also not included in the total was the death Sunday of George Feendner, 68, of Rt. 1, Mingo Junction (Jefferson County). Feendner was killed when he was struck by a Pennsylvania Railroad train about eight miles west of Mingo Junction. Sheriff's deputies said Feendner was lying on the track. The sheriff's department and railroad police are investigating the death.

The fatalities:

Friday night
Leonard H. Calentine, 65, and his wife, Lottie, age unknown, of Stockport (Morgan County) in a three-car pile-up on Ohio 77 in Washington County.

Edward C. Baird, 83, of Alliance, fatally injured by a car as he crossed a street there.

Saturday
Donald Palmer, 30, of Newark, pinned in the wreckage when his car missed a curve on fogbound Linville Pike between Newark and Zanesville.

George Stewart, 32, Beachwood Village (Cuyahoga County), when his car and another collided at a Cleveland intersection.

Dan Militaru, 68, of Cleveland, hit by a car in Cleveland.

Mrs. Nellie Staiger, 60, of Rt. 3, Bucyrus, when her car veered and hit two parked trucks on U.S. 30-North about two miles west of Bucyrus.

Sam Romanello, 12, of Cincinnati, after a pressurized can he threw into a trash fire exploded and a piece of flying metal cut a vein in his neck.

William Suskuts, 52, and his son, Joe, 22, of Springfield, when their car sideswiped another, hit a fire plug and crashed in a yard in Springfield.

Earl F. Cappel Jr., 20, of Columbus, when the car he was driving skidded off a Franklin County road near Gahanna and hit a pole. Thomas Freeman, 70, of Huntington, W. Va., a patient at Veterans Administration Hospital in Dayton, knocked 50 feet by a car as he tried to cross a West Side street, then hit again as the motorist backed up and fled the scene.

Sunday
Charles Johnson, 18, of Cleveland, crushed when he was thrown from a car which then tipped over on Cleveland's East Side.

Clifford Yates, 23, and his stepdaughter, Michelle Poulson, 21, of Rt. 1, Markleville, Ind., when the car in which they were passengers went off Ohio 73 on a curve in Clinton County and hit a tree.

Phil C. Dwinell, 69, of Bluffton, Ind., and Mrs. Nancy Piper, 70, of Rt. 2, Rockford (Mercer County) in a head-on collision on U.S. 33 about 20 miles northwest of Celina.

William and Frances Clegg, and Kathryn Singledecker, all 34 and all from Bucyrus, when their car crashed off Ohio 61 in Crawford County.

Eugene W. Hanson, 29, Newton Falls (Trumbull County), who survived when his car missed a curve on a county road and rolled over, but died after being rushed to a hospital.

Leon Francis Shell, 65, and a woman believed to be his wife (name unknown), about the same age, of New Washington (Crawford County) in a collision on U.S. 22 about 10 miles east of Zanesville.

Ervin P. Marsalas, 78, of Columbus, in a collision on Ohio 3 about three miles northeast of Loudonville in Ashland County.

Edward Cannon, 52, after his auto spun out of control on a curve and hit a pole on Cleveland's East Side Saturday. He died Sunday night.

Montreal Regains First By Beating New York

By The Associated Press
Things returned to normal in the National Hockey League over the weekend. Montreal is back in first place, Detroit has become a contender and Chicago is back to its losing habit.

Montreal defeated the New York Rangers 5-3 Sunday night after playing a 2-2 with the winless New Yorkers the previous evening. Detroit was the only club to win twice, beating Toronto Sunday and Chicago Saturday. Both scores were 3-1.

Syracuse Tops Detroit As Cage Play Begins

By The Associated Press
Coach Paul Seymour hopes this is the season of reckoning for his Syracuse Nationals in the Eastern Division race of the National Basketball Assn.

The Nats, who finished third two years ago and were runnerup to the Boston Celtics in the 1957-58 campaign, are aiming to dethrone the Celtics this season. And they're off and running.

The Detroit Pistons and the Nationals inaugurated the season in a nationally televised game in Syracuse Sunday with the Nats winning 193-94.

Flashing a balanced scoring attack, Syracuse bolted to a 22-point half-time lead. When the Pistons rallied after the intermission, the Nats successfully withstood their belated surge.

Agent Loses License

New York Policeman Goes Berserk

What Was Behind Slaying Of Four?

NEW YORK (AP)—What deadly impulse drove policeman James McDermott to the cold-blooded slaughter of four men in a Broadway restaurant?

Did injuries he suffered last year in a car accident twist his mind with destructive urges?

Did he bear a grudge against the victims? One was a convicted loan shark and two of the others also had police records.

Had he been drinking?

Police investigated these angles today to try to uncover some explanation for the 34-year-old patrolman's violent outburst Sunday in the Pica-Rib Restaurant.

McDermott himself could not supply the answers immediately. He lay speechless in critical condition on a hospital bed. His body was riddled with five bullet wounds inflicted by other policemen, who waged a spectacular gun duel with him on midtown streets as he fled.

Two of the capturing policemen were from McDermott's home precinct. McDermott, married and the father of four, was off duty when he entered the restaurant on Broadway near 53rd Street about 1:45 a. m. A few minutes later, without warning, he drew two guns and blazed away at helpless patrons. Four men fell mortally wounded.

McDermott crashed through the glass paneling of a door and fled. Pursuing policemen opened fire, hitting him five times. He returned the fire, wounding one of the pursuers, before he collapsed, unconscious, about three blocks from the restaurant.

McDermott had a clean record, including one commendation, during his 10 years on the force. Neighbors described him as a conscientious father and churchgoer. Fellow policemen recalled he was a "nice, pleasant guy."

Officials said McDermott had been under medical treatment since December 1957, when he was injured in the collision of a radio car with a truck. Two weeks ago, he underwent X-ray examinations after complaining of persistent headaches.

His four victims all died in hospitals. They were: Edmund Leahy, 53, of Manhattan, a stevedore who recently served a prison sentence for loan sharking. His record also shows fines for gambling and bookmaking convictions.

Thomas Joseph O'Hare, 55, of Manhattan, an usher at Madison Square Garden, once arrested for alleged burglary but released with the charge dismissed.

Lawrence Davion, Mount Vernon, N. Y., known as "Larry the Barber," who carried papers listing two other names—Larry Jenkins and Frank Anderson. Davion's police record, dating from 1933, includes a jail term for altering identification marks on an automobile, a bookmaking fine and two other arrests.

Eugene Cronin, 60, Jersey City, N. J. Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm was asked if there was evidence that McDermott had been involved with a loan shark, and he replied: "We have nothing to go on, but we are investigating that angle as well as all other angles."

Neighbors said McDermott had given up drinking about five years ago. McDermott was charged with homicide and suspended from the force.

Temperatures as high as 158 degrees Fahrenheit have been recorded in the sand dunes of the Sahara.

Firemen Await 40 At Dinner Tuesday

Approximately 40 are expected to attend a dinner of Local 24, International Association of Fire Fighters, Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. at Central Fire Station, when firemen expect to show how retention of the city income tax will provide additional improvements for the department.

Joseph Rutter, head of the classification department of the Ohio Inspection Bureau, will be the principal speaker, outlining what improvements have been made in the department and what still needs to be done.

Seven new members of the department will be obligated by John O'Doherty of Lorain, a trustee of the international organization.

Other guests will include Mayor Fred P. Lawrence, Safety-Service Director Dan Maggiani, city councilmen and members of the Firemen's Pension Board.

Dan Eberhart of Youngstown, vice president, and Robert Lukens of Middletown, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio association, also are expected to attend.

Escaped Ohio Murderer Held By FBI In Montana

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The FBI has captured an escaped Ohio murderer in Livingston, Mont., almost seven years to the day after he fled from London Prison Farm.

Harry G. Maynor, special agent in charge of the FBI in Montana, identified the fugitive as Daniel Clay Coe. London Prison Farm records, however, list Daniel Coe as an alias for Delbert Wilt, 44, of Stark County.

Wilt was convicted of the hatchet slaying of an elderly invalid, half-blind Edward B. Thomas at the Thomas farm home on Mapleton Road in Stark County in May 1935. Mrs. Thomas also was slain, but Wilt never was tried on that charge. He was convicted of first degree murder with a recommendation of mercy.

Wilt was a farmhand at the Thomas farm. The slaying for which he was convicted followed an argument over wages.

Wilt was admitted to Ohio Penitentiary in October, 1935, and later transferred to the prison farm. Records show he escaped in October, 1951.

The FBI in Montana lists Coe's escape date as October, 1951. The agent in charge said Coe had been working in the Livingston area for several months and previously had worked in Spokane, Wash. Armed FBI officers moved in only after watching his boarding house all night in the business district of the southern Montana city.

He was held for Ohio authorities on a charge of unlawful flight to avoid confinement.

Hookstown Man Fined By Cumberland Squire

NEW CUMBERLAND—A Hookstown motorist was one of four fined for minor traffic violations at hearings Saturday before Squire John D. Herron.

Wilbert McCoy, 30, of Hookstown was fined $10 and costs for operating an auto with no license plates. Also fined $10 and costs were Raymond Koener, 25, of Pittsburgh, for operating an auto with four passengers in the front seat, and Emerson Welshans, 40, of Burgettstown, for having no inspection sticker on his auto.

Also fined was Joseph Codner, 18, of Cleveland, $25 and costs for having no operator's license. All were cited by officers of the Weirton Detachment of the West Virginia State Police.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average three or four degrees above normal. Normal high 60 north and 66 south. Normal low 40-44. Warm Tuesday, cooler Wednesday, warmer Thursday and Friday and cooler again about Saturday. Precipitation will average about one inch in showers Tuesday and again about Friday.
